LAYOUT/MEDIA GRAPHIC DESIGN

Cardboard Alchemy is going on some artistic adventures and is in need of a talented and creative professional to assist us in layout, production, and marketing graphic design missions.

Potential tasks include (but are not limited to):

- Extending and adapting concept design into game UI, layouts and components.
- Iterating and evolving game prototypes for online and print use.
- Developing game rulebook look, box back designs and other highly information–dense layouts.
- Collaboration with production and community teams on social media content using game illustrations, characters and logos.
- Customizing campaign graphics and supporting assets for each project.
- Creating iconography and other visual assets as needed.

The requirements for this role are:

- Works well in a team slack environment with other creatives, artists and designers.
- Solid understanding of typography, color, layout and information hierarchy.
- Able to rapidly prototype and iterate on ideas, workshoping alt concepts quickly.
- Clear communication skills, both written and verbal.
- Strong attention to detail and ability to work with precision.
- Well organized file making techniques and systematic approach to asset creation.
- Experience with Adobe Creative Suite (especially InDesign and Illustrator).

The ideal candidate should have experience in various disciplines of graphic design, from layout and technical design for game components to marketing and social media compositions, as the task requires. Flexible work hours and ability to collaborate with both LA and London offices is a plus!

We will request sample link(s) be submitted with your resume for review, ideally looking for a portfolio that showcases board game design, layout and technical design examples.

This is for remote, freelance work, $40–$60/hr, depending on experience and qualifications. Please let us know your availability/what hours you are happy to work on a week by week basis. Send resume, cover letter and portfolio link to adventure@cardboardalchemy.com to apply.
